IN RE: TENTH EXTENSION OF AUTHORIZATION FOR USE OF VIDEO TELECONFERENCING AND TELECONFERENCING FOR CERTAIN
CRIMINAL AND JUVENILE DELINQUENCY PROCEEDINGS

Standing Order No. 22-45 (BAH)

Chief Judge Beryl A. Howell

ORDER

The Court has continued to monitor the circumstances in this district relating to the COVID-19 pandemic, as detailed in the following FINDINGS:

1. On March 13, 2020, the President of the United States declared a national emergency under the National Emergencies Act, 50 U.S.C. §§ 1601 et seq., with respect to the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (“COVID-19”) global pandemic, which national emergency remains in effect.<sup>1</sup> The Secretary of Health and Human Services has determined that a national public health emergency continues to exist.<sup>2</sup>
2. On March 29, 2020, the Judicial Conference of the United States found “that emergency conditions due to the national emergency declared by the President” with respect to COVID-19 “have materially affected and will materially affect the functioning of the federal courts generally,” which finding remains in effect.<sup>3</sup>

3. The United States District Court for the District of Columbia is a district court covered by the Judicial Conference finding, set out in paragraph 2, above.

4. The COVID-19 pandemic continues to impact lives in the District of Columbia. Since March 2020, COVID-19 case counts in the District of Columbia have fluctuated, with rates dropping significantly in the late summer of 2020 and then rising precipitously in November and December 2020. In the summer of 2021, daily case rates reached the lowest number in over a year, but then rose substantially in August and September 2021, due to widespread circulation of the Delta variant of the virus.<sup>4</sup> In early 2022, the Omicron variant surged through the District of Columbia and then receded, only for cases to surge again, though more modestly, in April 2022, driven by a newer COVID-19 variant. For context, on February 9, 2022, the 7-day average of new cases was 184.<sup>5</sup> One month later, on March 9, 2022, the 7-day average had dropped to 58, but by April 10, 2022, it had risen again to 144.<sup>6</sup> As of May 9, 2022, the 7-day average of new cases in the District was 181.<sup>7</sup> Since June 1, 2022, the 7-day average of new cases has fluctuated within the 149–290 range, with the 7-day average on August 1, 2022 being 182.<sup>8</sup>

5. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) considers a combination of three metrics over the most recent seven-day period to assess local COVID-19 community levels as low, medium or high.<sup>9</sup> The three metrics considered are: new COVID-19 hospital admissions per 100,000 population, percentage of hospital beds filled by COVID-19 patients, and total new COVID-19 cases per 100,000 in the past seven days.<sup>10</sup> Under the CDC's current framework, the District of Columbia's community level in recent weeks has vacillated between "low" and "medium."<sup>11</sup>

6. Transmission of the virus within the D.C. Department of Corrections' ("DOC") D.C. Jail, where many defendants are detained pretrial on charges pending in this Court and in other local and federal courts in this metropolitan area, has been generally well contained due to protocols adopted and refined during the pandemic.<sup>12</sup> Nevertheless, DOC experienced a rash of cases during the surge of the Delta variant in September and a more significant surge of cases from the Omicron variant. In recent weeks, DOC has seen an uptick in new cases, with approximately 30 residents testing positive over the last three weeks with additional residents in isolation from possible exposure. According to DOC officials, only approximately 40% of DOC residents are fully vaccinated. Minimization of the risks of virus transmission and further exposure from residents entering or re-entering the facility remain a priority.

7. The Federal Public Defender for this District has reported a recent increase in COVID-19 cases among defense attorneys and staff.

8. At the outset of the pandemic in March 2020, all jury trials were suspended in this Court and only authorized to resume on a limited basis in March 2021.<sup>13</sup> On December 30, 2021, jury trials were again suspended due to the surge of COVID-19 cases driven by the Omicron variant, and resumed on February 7, 2022, as the surge began to subside.<sup>14</sup> Since that time, jury trials have been conducted successfully with extensive safety protocols in place. As the number of jury trials being held increase, the number of persons summoned and required to enter the courthouse for jury service is increasing, raising concomitant risks of transmission of the virus. Use of remote proceedings to reduce the number of persons required to be physically present in the courthouse helps mitigate that risk.

9. This Court is committed to maximizing the ability to conduct criminal jury trials and has developed a comprehensive plan for conducting trials that prioritizes the health and safety of all trial participants, courthouse staff, and those working in the courthouse. Details of that plan are available in Appendix 8 to the COOP Plan.<sup>15</sup> Presiding judges have the option of using multiple courtrooms for jury selection and/or trial, in order to allow trial participants, judges, court staff, and prospective and selected jurors to maximize physical distancing and to limit the number of people in a courtroom at one time. To that end, a presiding judge may designate an entire courtroom as a “jury room” given the small size of many of the jury rooms in the courthouse. The use of multiple spaces for one trial necessarily limits the Court's capacity to conduct other proceedings in person.

10. Public health guidance continues to emphasize physical distancing and masking for individuals who are not fully vaccinated or are immunocompromised, but the vaccination status of attorneys, jurors, members of the media and public, and others in the courthouse may not be known. Moreover, not everyone can be vaccinated or boosted, and even with vaccination, persons with compromised immune systems are still at risk. Accordingly, health and safety protocols, including masking, remain in place in the public spaces of the courthouse and, subject to the presiding Judge's direction, in courtrooms.<sup>16</sup> Courtrooms have been retrofitted with plexiglass and otherwise reconfigured in accordance with expert health and safety recommendations, and numerous other steps have been taken throughout the courthouse to mitigate the risk of virus transmission and to assure all grand jurors, petit jurors, trial participants, and others working in or required to enter the courthouse.

11. Currently approximately 1000 criminal cases are pending in this Court. Many of the pending cases arose out of the events at the United States Capitol on January 6, 2021, and many defendants in those cases reside outside of the District of Columbia, as do their counsel.

12. On March 29, 2020, this Court authorized use of video conferencing, or teleconferencing if video conferencing is not reasonably available, for certain criminal proceedings pursuant to the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act ("CARES Act"), Pub. L. No. 116-136, § 6002, Div. B, Title V, § 15002(b)(3)(A), 134 Stat. 281, 529

(2020). See In Re: Use of Video Teleconferencing and Teleconferencing for Certain Criminal and Juvenile Delinquency Proceedings, Standing Order No. 20-17 (BAH) (Mar. 29, 2020).

13. The CARES Act requires that authorization for use of video teleconferencing or telephone conferencing be reviewed “[o]n the date that is 90 days after the date on which [such] authorization . . . is issued,” and every 90 days thereafter. CARES Act, Sec. 6002, Div. B, Title VI, § 15002(b)(3). Following this Court’s initial authorization of March 29, 2020, multiple extensions have been authorized, the latest of which is set to expire August 11, 2022.<sup>17</sup>

14. The COVID-19 pandemic continues to have a material effect on the functioning of this Court, with the impact of COVID-19 on court operations anticipated to persist for at least 90 more days. Extending the authority to utilize videoconferencing or teleconferencing for the proceedings listed in the CARES Act, § 15002(b)(1), and for felony pleas and sentencings pursuant to § 15002(b)(2), allows the Court to prioritize the use of courtroom space for trials and to reduce the risk of exposure and transmission of the virus that may still arise from in-person proceedings. It also limits the need for travel by out-of-town defendants, families, attorneys, and interested public and mitigates the health and safety risks posed to some by such travel to appear in person in the courthouse. It limits the numbers of people in the courthouse generally and ensures that certain proceedings may continue on schedule even if a participant, or judge, is required to be in quarantine or is otherwise impacted by the pandemic and unable to appear in person.

15. The Federal Public Defender's Office and the United States Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia support further extension of videoconferencing authority under the CARES Act, subject to the required determinations and consent in individual cases as noted below.

Accordingly, in light of the Court's review of the aforementioned circumstances, and after consultation with the Federal Public Defender's Office and the United States Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia, it is hereby ORDERED:

(a) Video Conferencing Authorization for Certain Criminal Proceedings.

Pursuant to the CARES Act, § 15002(b)(1), authorization for use of video teleconferencing (or telephone conferencing if video conferencing is not reasonably available), is continued for 90 days until November 9, 2022, or the earliest of the circumstances set forth, infra, in paragraph (c), subject to the consent of the defendant after consultation with counsel, see CARES Act, § 15002(b)(4), for the following criminal proceedings enumerated in the CARES Act, § 15002(b)(1):

- i. Detention hearings under section 3142 of title 18, United States Code;
- ii. Initial appearances under Rule 5 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure;
- iii. Preliminary hearings under Rule 5.1 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure;

- iv. Waivers of indictment under Rule 7(b) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure;
- v. Arraignments under Rule 10 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure;
- vi. Probation and supervised release revocation proceedings under Rule 32.1 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure;
- vii. Pretrial release revocation proceedings under section 3148 of title 18, United States Code;
- viii. Appearances under Rule 40 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure;
- ix. Misdemeanor pleas and sentencings as described in Rule 43(b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure; and
- x. Proceedings under Chapter 403 of title 18, United States Code, except for contested transfer hearings and juvenile delinquency adjudication or trial proceedings.

(b) Video Conferencing Authorization for Felony Pleas and Sentencings.

Pursuant to the CARES Act, § 15002(b)(2), authorization for use of video teleconferencing (or telephone conferencing if video conferencing is not reasonably available), also is continued for 90 days until November 9, 2022, or the earliest of the circumstances set forth, infra, in paragraph (c), for felony pleas and sentencings, under Rules 11 and 32, respectively, of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, as such proceedings require close contact between criminal defendants and their counsel, government counsel, court staff, Deputy United States Marshals, Court Security Officers, and Judges, and may require the transport of detained individuals, who may be unvaccinated, from various jail facilities to the courthouse within a confined vehicle space or may require significant travel of defendants or attorneys from out of town. Requiring all such felony pleas and sentencings to be conducted in person would pose continued serious jeopardy to the public health and safety of in-court participants and others with whom they may have contact, given the circumstances as described above. This authorization is subject, as required by the CARES Act, to a finding by the presiding judge in a particular case that a plea or sentencing cannot be further delayed without serious harm to the interests of justice, CARES Act, § 15002(b)(2)(A), and to the consent of the defendant, after consultation with counsel, id. § 15002(b)(4). The authority of this paragraph applies with respect to equivalent plea and sentencing, or disposition, proceedings under chapter 403 of title 18, United States Code. Id. § 15002(b)(2)(B).

(c) Expiration of Authorizations

The authorizations for video and teleconferencing set forth, supra, in paragraphs (a) and (b), shall remain in effect until the dates indicated above or the earliest of the following:

- (i) Thirty days after the date on which the President's national emergency declaration terminates;
- (ii) The date on which the Judicial Conference of the United States finds that emergency conditions due to the national emergency declared by the President no longer materially affect the functioning of either the Federal courts generally or this Court in particular; or
- (iii) This Court determines that authorization is no longer warranted.

The Court shall review the authorizations for use of video teleconferencing or telephone conferencing on or before the dates indicated in sections (a) and (b) to determine whether such authorizations are still warranted and whether any extensions are necessary.

(d) Further Orders. Further orders addressing court operations and proceedings in the exigent circumstances caused by the COVID-19 pandemic will be issued as circumstances warrant.

SO ORDERED.

Date: August 8, 2022
